Imagine you had immediate access to year-long experience, a team of expert technicians at your disposal, certified quality products from a recognized market leader and a polish speaking service team which takes care of your requests and ideas.

Imagine there was a single supplier that could solve all application problems that you might have during the lamination of PVC, aluminium or wooden panels and profiles. Somebody who knows the technical side of the machinery as well as all types of application and process parameters. Imagine that this somebody feels responsible not only for the product he sells but for your process reliability and the quality of your products.

Do not be surprised but this somebody already exists! WPR/TAKA is the only company in the profile lamination business that provides an all-round service to its customers. Technical assistance, 24 hours spare part service, training of staff, quality control, upgrade and refurbishment of machinery and many, many more.

This invaluable service is a major asset at the disposal of WPR/Taka customers!
Contact Takapol, our branch in Poland, to discover our all-round service and ask for your free consultation.
